

Curriculum vitae

Markus Stemeseder works as a Research and Teaching Assistant (prae doc) at the Section for International Law and International Relations at the University of Vienna.

He studied law at the University of Vienna and at Sciences Po Paris. During his studies, he worked as a student assistant at the Department of European, International and Comparative Law, at the Department of Civil Procedure and as a tutor at the Department of Communication of the University of Vienna. He participated in the Philip C. Jessup International Law Moot Court, in which he continues to be involved as a judge and gained practical experience as a trainee at the Permanent Mission of Austria to the United Nations in New York. Prior to his current position, he worked as a judicial clerk in Vienna.